"Hidden" 2.4ghz wireless network/Only can find 5ghz, other devices cant find network - [Solved]

2019/08/24

HiBasic InfoDLink Cobra 5300Isp : telstra (AUS)PCI wireless adapter: qualcomm atheros ar9485After using my desktop all day with zero issue, i returned after a couple hours, to my desktop having dropped wifi. After restarting, resetting, factory resetting the modem, updating drivers, uninstalling and then reinstalling drivers, to make sure im not loosing it, i still cant establish a connection. On the LED's on the top of the modem i can see that the 2.4ghz range that is normally running has ceased. having hard reset the modem i cant understand why this would persist. I have confirmed this, by all 5ghz devices being able to connect, and a 2.4ghz hotspot from my phone which said devices can connect too i am out of clues. Also in the modem settings, the 2.4ghz band is active, with the exact same settings as its 5ghz counterpart. Following from this, using control panels connect to a network system, though a hidden network, it recognizes its presence but cant connect. im not sure if thats a default response or what.cheers
