Can you shut off light bulbs remotely?

2019/09/09

Hi there! Well, first of all we have to tell you that we do not have any of EMP jammers or similar devices at Jammer-Store, because even a small EMP jamming device, that will barely have the power to jam a simple, low-power light bulb will have an extra powerful signal emission and it will be really harmful to health of our customers. Our jamming devices are 100% healthy and are not dangerous. But, there is a possibility, that we will be able to provide you with the device, that can block remotely controlled lighting systems. I'm talking about such systems as Belkin's Wemo light switch and others, that can be remotely controlled via iPhone or Android smartphone. In that case it will be enough to block Wi-Fi and Bluetooth, so those systems won't work. But you should be careful - if you'll use such a signal blocker, your home Wi-Fi network or hotspot will go down, until you turn the jammer of. If that will do for you - you'll need a portable 2,4 GHz signal blocker. It has 50 feet of jamming range, which is more than enough for a portable device. Also it is not as harmful as EMP jammer and won't cause any interference for mobile phones and other electrical appliances, while EMP jammer would block everything that uses electricity. Thank you for your question, I hope, I've managed to help!
